

iF3 Movie Awards 10th edition registration process is now open!

June 14th, 2017 – Montréal, Québec – It is already that time of the year. All film companies and film producers are now invited to register for the iF3 2017 edition with a deadline of July 26th, 2017. iF3 has now opened the registration process and is excited to announce that many new films from the past winter season are currently in editing mode across the world.

Felix Rioux, iF3 Movie Awards director says: “We are stoked to see the projects in the works for fall 2017! It will be our 10th edition of the iF3 Movie Awards and with the best SKI & SNOWBOARD films around the world being submitted to our independent jury, it will be a party of EPIC proportions!”

The 10th edition of the Montreal iF3 Festival will be taking place in Montreal’s old port at Hangar 16 from October 26th to 29th, 2017. Many of the best ski and snowboard films will be presented in the two cinemas mounted for this occasion along with the presence of top athletes and producers from around the world. The iF3 Movie Awards ceremony is scheduled to take place late afternoon Saturday October 28th, 2017. We invite you to come get hyped for the upcoming season with us by celebrating the best images and athletic performances of the ski & snowboard international communities!

About iF3

The International Freeski Film Festival was founded in 2007 to recognize and celebrate the excellence in freeskiing. It is the biggest festival tour of its kind, travelling the globe to present the world’s best ski movies of the year. The festival’s reputation and recognition stem from being the only independent ski film award ceremony with an international and diverse jury panel in which not only athletic performances are rewarded. In fact, a major part of the gala is dedicated to the artistry and production work involved in bringing ski films, and now snowboard films as well, to life.
